Paramount Signs MOU to Recruit Crews for Korean Air

Crew-leasing companies partner to provide Captains and First Officers to Korean airline

Alexandria, Virginia – July 15, 2011 – On Monday, June 13, 2011, Paramount Aviation Resources Group, a global provider of flight crew personnel, signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with Total Aviation Service (“TAS”), a Los Angeles based flight crew procurement agency, to recruit crew members for Korean Air. The MOU between Paramount Aviation Resources Group and Total Aviation Services outlines a joint, multi-year arrangement to recruit crew members for South Korea’s flagship airline.

“I look forward to working with TAS on this joint effort. Korean Air continues to expand and requires the addition of many highly-qualified, professional pilots. The collaboration between TAS and Paramount will enable Korean Air to satisfy its demand for pilots,” said Michael W. Johnson Paramount Aviation Resources Group President and CEO. “Paramount has had a lot of success recruiting for the Asian market, and we look forward to finding Korean Air some of the best pilots in the business.”

Paramount Aviation Resources Group has been recruiting pilots in the Asian market since 2008. In that time, Paramount Aviation Resources Group has placed dozens of pilots with airlines such as IndiGo, Shenzhen Airlines and Hainan Airlines.

“I am very pleased to work in partnership with Paramount,” said Bruce Philips Total Aviation Services General Manager. “Paramount has a proven track record for recruiting reputable and professional pilots. I’m looking forward to working together to meet the crew needs of Korean Air.”

Paramount Aviation Resources Group is currently recruiting Captains and First Officers for Korean Air on Boeing B-747-400, Boeing B-777, Boeing B-737NG and Airbus A-330 aircraft. . Korean Air is hiring rated and unrated pilots; therefore, both are encouraged to apply. Interested pilots should contact Paramount Aviation Resources Group Vice President of Recruitment Services, Mr. Ayman Jarrah, at ayman.jarrah@paramountarg.com.

In addition to winning numerous awards in 2010 for its commercial service, Korean Air was also ranked as the number one global cargo airline by IATA for the sixth consecutive year. On June 17, 2011 Korean Air flew its inaugural Airbus A380 commercial flight from Incheon International Airport in Seoul, Korea to Narita International Airport in Tokyo, Japan. Korean Air has ordered ten A380 aircraft with the first five to be delivered by the end of 2011 and the remaining five by 2014.
